

Tourism Technology Grassroots Innovation and Incubation Programme (TTGIIP) Info and Application Guidelines

Purpose of the Programme:

The Tourism Technology Grassroots Innovation and Incubation Programme (TTGIIP) is a jointly developed initiative between the Department of Tourism and Technology Innovation Agency. The purpose of the programme is to support a pipeline of young tourism-tech entrepreneurs who can develop disruptive technologies for the industry, as well as to facilitate the introduction of new concepts that will help boost, sustain and create more jobs in the Tourism industry.

The programme will focus on four key elements of business development;

1. The business management skills of the entrepreneur through skills development and training,
2. The enterprise idea and prototype design and development, business viability and market testing, regulatory compliance, business financial/ risk structure and quality standards,
3. Facilitate start-up funding and venture capital for business expansion and,
4. Facilitation of market and trade linkages for commercialisation of enterprises.

The TTGIIP is aimed at ensuring meaningful involvement of youth and women in the travel and hospitality industry operations by capitalising on their intellectual technology edge to change the traditional business systems and practices in a manner that empowers youth & women and facilitates their participation in business. The programme will involve the development of an industry problem statement that seeks to challenge participants to develop innovative solutions. This is a competitive process which will require the participants to identify problems, develop a tech solution which they will pitch to a panel of judges. The Ideas/solutions must be practical, realistic and show potential for commercial success, upscaling, job creation and attracted funding will be given priority. Chosen ideas will be put on a 2-year development programme which includes, idea finalisation, prototype development, commercialisation plan, venture capital and other investment financing attraction, market testing and eventual graduation into the market.

The TTGIIP programme aims to achieve these specific objectives by helping participants:

- To inspire innovation amongst enterprises in the travel and hospitality sector,
- To involve youth & women in tourism business operations,
- To facilitate commercialisation and market access funding in the travel and hospitality businesses and,
- Create new jobs and skills development.

Programme Beneficiaries:

Targeted beneficiaries of the programme are youth and women with innovative ideas to potentially disrupt the tourism industry.
